

From the Principal's Desk

It is a pleasure to connect with our students and parents as we move into the vibrant festive season and reflect on a month of profound learning and achievement. This month, we took inspiration from the timeless values championed by Mahatma Gandhi. Our community collectively pledged to live by the spirit of "See no evil, hear no evil, speak no evil." We believe that true education is not just about academics but about shaping compassionate, responsible human beings. We are incredibly proud of the recent academic achievements. The students' commitment, supported by proper planning, execution, and dedicated extra practice provided by our hardworking faculty, has paid off handsomely. This success highlights the power of discipline and teamwork, and we commend every student who worked hard to earn these excellent grades. In line with our progressive approach to education, we are committed to providing platforms that allow students to grow beyond the classroom. This month, our students were given a wonderful opportunity to develop and showcase their leadership and entrepreneurial skills. The students were engaged in various internship programs, and they also set up markets.

As we approach the festival of lights, Diwali, I extend my warmest and most sincere best wishes to all my dear students and parents. May the festival bring a bounty of joy, peace, prosperity, and light into your homes and hearts. Please enjoy this special time with your families, celebrating safely and happily.

in humility.”

– Rabindranath Tagore

This powerful quote by Rabindranath Tagore means that true human greatness is not achieved through pride, arrogance, or a feeling of superiority, but through the profound and expansive quality of humility.

Colorful Chemistry Grade VII

Our Grade VII students had an absolute blast diving into the fascinating world of chemical reactions this past week! They put their theoretical knowledge into exciting practice by testing various substances for their acid and base properties using the Yardstick Kit. The laboratory transformed into a spectrum of vibrant hues as the students eagerly observed the colorful reactions and distinct observations. This hands-on experience was invaluable, as seeing the dynamic color changes helped solidify their understanding of the fundamental properties of different chemical substances.

Grandparents' Day Celebration

The school celebrated Grandparents' Day with great joy and enthusiasm, honouring the love, wisdom, and legacy of our beloved grandparents. The event was filled with warmth and nostalgia as grandparents proudly showcased their treasured collections — including old coins, stamps, and even an antique telephone set.

Fun and laughter echoed through the venue during the “Head, Shoulders, Knees and Toes” game, where everyone participated with enthusiasm. A special Time Capsule Activity added a creative touch, as grandparents displayed items from their time while their grandchildren drew the modern versions of them — beautifully bridging the gap between generations.

The celebration concluded with a cheerful group photograph capturing the precious memories of the day. Grandparents also visited the Market Day stalls organised by students of Grades VI to IX and purchased

PARENT'S CORNER

We are proud Ryanite parents. Our daughter, Saesha, is currently studying at Ryan International High School, and our experience with the school has been overwhelmingly positive. Over the years, we've seen remarkable growth in her personality, confidence, and overall development — both academically and personally.

The school's well-structured curriculum and student-focused approach have helped Saesha mature beyond her age. She has developed a strong sense of responsibility and discipline, which reflects not just in her studies but also in her behavior at home and in social settings.

We are particularly impressed with how the school encourages holistic development. Saesha has been exposed to a wide range of creative activities, from arts and crafts to music and drama, which have sparked her imagination and nurtured her talents. She has also actively participated in various sports, which has contributed to her physical fitness, team spirit, and resilience.

One of the most important qualities she has gained through her time at Ryan International is confidence. The supportive environment and encouragement from her teachers have helped her believe in herself and given her the courage to express her ideas and face challenges without fear.

As parents, we are truly grateful to the school and its faculty for creating such a nurturing
